Eliot Management Group to Allocate Funds for Earthquake Relief Efforts in Haiti

Salt Lake City, Utah, January 15 - Eliot Management Group (EMG), a national provider of credit card processing and check services, announced it will reorganize philanthropic efforts to allocate funds toward earthquake relief efforts in Haiti. EMG's Green Merchant Program currently includes a donation to the Nature Conservancy on behalf of each new merchant who signs. In light of the widespread devastation in Haiti following the January 12 earthquake, EMG will transfer a large percentage of the donation totals to the American Red Cross to support emergency relief and recovery efforts.

Ron Dichter, CEO, states, "We at EMG are deeply concerned about the Haitian people and their safety. While separated by distance, we hope that our support will assist the brave individuals on the ground working diligently in their search and rescue efforts."

About the American Red Cross:

The American Red Cross shelters, feeds and provides emotional support to victims of disasters; supplies nearly half of the nation's blood; teaches lifesaving skills; provides international humanitarian aid; and supports military members and their families. The Red Cross is a charitable organization — not a government agency — and depends on volunteers and the generosity of the American public to perform its mission.
